A Toronto baby farming woman is accused of killing three babies.

The Winnipeg four car crew won the intermediate race at Saratoga. Hackett, of Bat Portage, won the amateur single scull race.

The Winnipeg industrial fair has been a great success so far, but to-day was to be a big day and it is pouring rain, with indications of an all day's drizzle.

The Quebec leaders are said to be growing tired of fighting the battles of the church, which threaten to smash confederation and the conservative party and in which Quebec has no interest.

The Free Press announces a change of policy to-day following the visit of the manager to Montreal. Henceforward it is promised that the paper will be thoroughly independent and criticize both parties.

The conservatives are sweeping Great Britain, being now sure of a majority of 60. The result so far is: conservatives 230, liberal unionists 39, total 269; liberals 65, McCarthyites 28, Parnellites 6, labor 2, total 101.

McCarthy's amendment, regretting the attitude of the government on the school question, was not voted on in the commons as only McCarthy and O'Brien asked for a vote and five must do so to secure it. Many conservatives speaking on the motion declared their intention of opposing the government. Davin thought Manitoba should adopt the Territorial system which he commended. Some conservatives spoke as if the government would never introduce remedial legislation although Tupper said the government would go to the length of forcing Manitoba.

Monday's train was three hours late in reaching Edmonton although only half an hour late at Red Deer. The delay was caused by shunting gravel cars.

Lethbridge News: A number of settlers from the States with teams and wagons, and driving a quantity of horses, passed through town on Monday on their way north.

On Tuesday R. Secord bought a $500 lot of fur from McNeill, a trader of Fond du Lac on Lake Athabasca, and a $300 lot from a Chipewyan Indian who came up with Colin Fraser.

LARUE & PICARD have had a new delivery wagon built by R. Duplessis and painted by F. Renaud, in a very artistic style. The maple leaf and beaver figure in gay colors on the side.

MOOSE JAW TIMES: On Monday a caravan of three covered wagons passed through town, carrying two families of native French Canadians from South Dakota to Edmonton. The families included some fifteen souls in all. Their wagons were well loaded with provisions and household effects. They stated that they had suffered five successive crop failures in South Dakota.

THE plans of the traffic bridge arrived by last mail and are posted up in the council chamber. They show an iron truss bridge, 703 feet in length with three spans of 234 feet each, supported on two piers in the river and an abutment in each bank. The piers are of cut stone set in cement. The flooring of the bridge is 30 feet above low water mark, but some four feet above extreme high water mark. The width of the river at low water is about 440 feet and the northernmost pier is only about 40 feet from the edge of low water, the rest of the span being over Ross' bar which is only covered during high water. No specifications accompany the plans, but the drawings are very complete.

J. LINHAM returned on Monday from Beaver lake, where he had been on a cattle buying trip. Mr. Linham has purchased over 300 head of cattle in the Edmonton district which will be taken to Calgary next week, by trail. This will be a great relief to the cattle market here, which has been glutted this season, and will show people that while the supply may for a time shut it will finally create a market. The reason cattle were not in demand here this spring by the great buyers was not because we had too many cattle but because we did not have enough of the right kind to make it worth the while of these buyers to come after them and pick them up. Mr. Linham can handle a different grade of cattle, and when he can get two or three hundred head he comes after them, as he would not if he could only get forty or fifty. The more cattle we have of the grades that are in demand the more buyers there will be to compete for them and the better the prices will be, while the effect of the increased supply in diminishing the world's demand will not be felt. Farmers need not be afraid of raising too much of any product. Once the local demand is supplied the greater the quantity produced the better the price, particularly if quality accompanies quantity.

NORTHWEST FUNDS.

The clipping from the Moose Jaw Times which appears in another column, if correct discloses a very serious condition of affairs in regard to Northwest funds. It appears that out of $220,000 which was appropriated by parliament at the preceding session for the expenses of government in the Northwest for the year ending on the first of this month, and placed under the control of the Northwest assembly, $45,000 has been expended by the Northwest executive in relief of distress in the Regina and adjacent districts last fall, under promise of the minister of interior that it would be refunded by parliament at its present session, which promise has not been fulfilled, either by a special vote to meet the expenditure or by an addition to the lump sum voted to meet the expenses of the current year. In other words, the schools and public works of the Territories are $45,000 short of the amount apportioned to them by vote of the Northwest assembly. This is a shortage of about one-fifth of the total amount voted by parliament, to pay for expenditures that are already made. No doubt the recent delays in paying school grants and public works accounts from Regina is evidence in support of the Times' statement. These accounts for last year's services will most likely be finally paid out of his year's funds, and will leave this year short to that amount. That the relief of the destitution around Regina was properly a matter for Dominion expenditure there can be no doubt, quite as much so as the purchase of seed grain this spring, and it should have been left to the Dominion to deal with. In assuming responsibility for a Dominion expenditure the Northwest executive showed too great a willingness to be used, and they got exactly what they might expect. Every day that overdue accounts are left unpaid aggravates the situation.

THE CRISIS.

The definite announcement by the government that another session of parliament will be called in January next will be accepted with relief by the country, as it will remove the suspense which has prevailed since last spring in reference to the coming general elections. It fixes the date of the elections for some time between January and March, of '96, as the term of the present parliament will be ended in March. Outside of this there does not seem to be anything particularly gratifying to either friends or opponents of the administration in what they have done. They have been engaged in alternate bluffing and conciliation for so long that they are neither respected nor trusted by opponents nor supporters. The question has almost ceased to be one of policy, and has become one of competence and confidence. The changes of front on the Hudson's Bay railway and school questions by members of the government, and as well by the government as a whole, have been so rapid and the motives so evidently insincere as to defy criticism. If the members or any number of them would lay down a policy and stick to it they might gain in one quarter the support they lost in another. But when they have succeeded in convincing the public, as they certainly have, that they have no policy in which they themselves believe the public can scarcely be expected to believe very strongly in them. A number of the members of the cabinet declare publicly that they will vote against remedial legislation and yet they remain members of the government which has definitely promised it, their action directly giving the lie to their words. Other members declare their disbelief in the good faith of their colleagues by resigning from office, and then advertise their disbelief in the righteousness of their own cause by again taking office. A clearer attempt to gull the public never was made than the recent so-called crisis at Ottawa.

The Calgary Herald of a recent issue assumes to describe the half breeds of Lac la Biche as follows:

"A more poverty-stricken, ignorant, shiftless, superstitious and cheerfully immoral community it would be difficult to imagine. In spite of the fact that they are dependent on the lake for a living, they are neither good boatmen nor good fishers. The smallest approach to rough weather will keep them hungry and starving at home, and they neither have the craft or the nets requisite to pursue the fish into the deep waters even if their superstitious dread of a vast water snake, which they assert lives in the middle of the lake, did not deter them from venturing out there."

It continues:

"This community is fairly representative of those half breed settlements in Northern Alberta whose population Father Lacombe is urging the government to place on reserves and treat in the same way as they do the Indians."

Directly, it does not make much difference to the people concerned what the Herald says about them, but it has an indirect bearing that it may be as well to point out. The Herald poses as the government organ in Alberta, and the policy of the government in regard to the fisheries of these lakes directly contemplates the restriction of fishing for a livelihood by the people who have always depended on the fish for a living, and the encouragement of fishing for commercial purposes. This may be a good and wise policy, but if so it should not be necessary to blackguard the people who will suffer by it in order to secure for it the public support. The object of the Herald is to support the government in that policy by prejudicing the public mind, as far as the Herald in its ignorance can prejudice it, against the half breeds in their present condition of free citizens, by publishing statements which are as false as they are gross and insulting, and which reflect so outrageously upon the religious instructors of these people, both Protestant and Catholic. It may be as well also to point out that the allusion to the proposition of Rev. Father Lacombe to establish a half breed reserve is unwarranted in the connection in which it is used by the Herald. His proposition is to establish a sort of refuge, not for the half breeds who are now in moderately comfortable circumstances near fishing lakes in Northern Alberta, but for those who are scattered throughout the Territories in less favorable situations and in destitute circumstances, who are reduced by poverty to the point of being incapable of self support.

NORTHWEST ASSEMBLY.

Regina Standard: A bill to further increase the powers of the Territorial Assembly has passed its second reading in the Commons. The Assembly may hereafter pass ordinances not inconsistent with any act of Parliament, incorporating associations of the land owners, and persons interested in the lands, in any district or tract of land for the purpose of constructing and operating irrigation works for the benefit of such lands. Power to incorporate street railway and tramway companies is also granted.

Provision for the resignation of members of the Assembly is made in the following language:

Until the Legislative Assembly otherwise provides, which it may do, an elected member may resign his seat in the Assembly—

(a) By giving, in his place in the Legislative Assembly, notice of his intention so to do; or

(b) By addressing and causing to be delivered to the Speaker a declaration of his intention so to do, made in writing under his hand and seal before two witnesses,—which declaration may be so made and delivered either during a session of the Legislative Assembly or in the interval between two sessions; or

(c) Before the Legislative Assembly of which he has been elected a member has met for the first time, by addressing and delivering to the Lieutenant-Governor a declaration, made and witnessed as aforesaid, of his intention to resign his seat; Provided, that a member shall not resign while his election is lawfully contested, or until after the expiration of the time during which it may by law be contested on other grounds than corruption or bribery.

The H. B. Co., are about to erect a brick grist mill and elevator in Prince Albert.

A. McDonald & Co., of Winnipeg, have opened a wholesale store in Prince Albert.

It was definitely announced in the Ottawa despatches of July 11th, that Sir Hector Langevin had been taken into the cabinet in the room of the Hon. Mr. Angers. This is now denied but is likely to occur. In the meantime Outimet is administering Angers, department.

At London, Ont., on July 12th, a resolution pledging the Orangemen of the district not to support any candidate for parliamentary honors who does not agree to vote against any measure to interfere with Manitoba's control of her school affairs was carried unanimously.

TERRITORIAL EXHIBITION.

REGINA, July 10th.

DEAR SIR: Will you kindly allow me through your columns to request that all gentlemen who intend to contest in the trap shooting tournament to take place at the forthcoming Territorial exhibition at Regina, will kindly send in their names, in order that the Committee in charge may know the number of birds to provide.

Yours truly,

J. K. STRACHAN,
Superintendent of exhibits.

Macleod Gazette: Forest fires are evidently raging in the mountains. During the past week the air has been thick with smoke, objects a mile off being scarcely discernable, and with the sun showing like a great red ball overhead.

A creamery is being erected at Prince Albert which is expected to turn out 2,000 pounds of butter a week, for which 16c. a pound f. o. b. at Prince Albert is offered by a British Columbia firm. So says the Prince Albert Advocate.

Macleod Gazette: Dr. McEachran showed a Gazette representative the other day a robe taken from one of the West Highland cattle owned by the Peigan Indians. It would take an expert to distinguish between it and a prime buffalo robe.

Prince Albert Advocate: The train on Saturday night was five hours late. The delay was caused by the extensive growth of weeds and grass along the track, which made the rails so slippery that the wheels would not take hold, and as a high wind prevailed, it blew the sand off, thus causing the delay. The need of permanent section men on this road is greater in summer than in winter, and it will be a greater inconvenience to the travelling public if they are not soon replaced by the C. P. R.

LEBUC.
Arrived on second last train: One car of effects for Mr. Laventura from Stillwater, Minn., and one car lumber for R.T. Telford.
The ladies are getting up a basket picnic for the 24th inst., to be held in the picnic grounds south of the lake. All are invited.
Wedding bells are chiming and if I mistake not, there will be several marriages in a few days.
Our frequent showers and warm sunshine have brought forth a rapid growth, and the talk of backward crops has sunk out of hearing. The farmers are now all jubilant over the undisturbed prospects of a bountiful crop.
If the N. W. M. P. officials are cognizant of the repeated doings at Lebuc, they deserve heavy censure for not having a man stationed here; if they are not cognizant of such it is about time for them to wake up and get that way.
Latan & Frederick have moved their single mill to Clearwater, where they intend saving for the settlers of that place.
A petition has been sent to the post office department, asking that the name of the recently established post office, Sandy Lake, be changed, as the name Sandy Lake is the name of the adjoining settlement, and it would conflict with the settlers of that place who wish to have their mail addressed to Lebuc or South Edmonton via Sandy Lake.

SILVER MONEY.
EDMONTON BULLETIN.
DEAR SIR: Could you kindly afford space for a few words in your paper. There seems to be no effort being put forth as far as I can see in the Northwest on the great question of restoration of silver to its former position as money. That there is something radically wrong somewhere is generally conceded, but one of the causes, the main cause as it seems to me, is receiving no attention here. I contend that silver must be restored to its former position as primary money, or we shall be driven into revolution, repudiation or bankruptcy. There is no escape from one or the other of these three. Under the present gold standard we see money continually depreciated, taking a larger amount of labor and the products of labor to pay our debts, we see those debts growing larger every day and their present proportions are enormous; and the burden will soon become intolerable. My object is to invite those who think with me to form a league, to initiate discussion and in any other legitimate way to battle against this great and growing evil.

Yours sincerely,
ALLEN PARSONS.
Beaver Lake, July 18th, 1905.
GENERAL NEWS.
The Winnipeg Tribune publishes an Ottawa rumor of July 13th to the effect that Laurier, M. P., for Provost, Manitoba, is to be made lieutenant governor of the province and that Sir Hector Langevin will run for Provost.
The Regina correspondent of the Free Press says on July 12: "Your correspondent learned on excellent authority this evening that the Northwest legislative assembly will not meet as intended, right away, but will be called to meet about the middle of August."
The Toronto World, conservative, on the promise of remedial legislation, editorially says: "We believe there will be such an uprising against the Howell cabinet, that while they may profess their pledges to introduce the law they will be defeated by the conservative vote when they attempt to carry it."
The Globe editorially says: "The Howell government by its weak and unpopularity has aggravated rather than lessened the bitterness natural to it, promising what it could not perform, blustering where it could not intimidate, and it has set both parties by the ears and makes a satisfactory settlement well nigh impossible."
On Saturday Dalton McCarthy gave notice of the following motion to be moved on Monday: "That this house has heard with regret the statements recently made defining the policy of the government respecting the Manitoba school question, and is unwilling by silence to appear to acquiesce in it or to allow it to be assumed that at the last session to be held in January next any more than at the present session, it prepared to pass a law to restore the system of separate schools in Manitoba on the lines of the remedial order of March 21, 1905."

At the orange celebration in Winnipeg on July 12th, Rev. Mr. Henderson proposed and J. K. McLean seconded a resolution concerning the Howell government for its promise of remedial legislation on the school question, endorsing the action of the Attorney General of Manitoba on the same subject, and concluding by a pledge to "defend our schools and the liberties of our children even to the sacrifice of our lives." The assemblage of people is said by the Free Press to have been the largest ever seen in Winnipeg. Another resolution moved by Rev. Mr. Finn and seconded by Frank Schultz, asked Hon. T. M. Daly to resign from the cabinet, and Messrs. Ross and Boyd to explain why they support a ministry that threatens the province with the dire calamity of separate schools.

St. Paul Dispatch—A great tendency is developing all over the country in the direction of simplifying the American school system. New York city is practically up in arms against the present policy of loading down the children with studies and breaking their health before they are half fitted for the duties of life. Public attention is being drawn to this subject in nearly every other large city in the union, because of the danger that is imminent of deteriorating the next generation of manhood and womanhood, so that it will be far below the present standard. This is a matter in which the parents themselves cannot remain indifferent, nor can they simply content themselves with vague personal protests. They will never amount to much, unless there is some unity of action among those who are vitally interested in a change. There has been too much effort in recent years to make our ordinary public schools substitutes for colleges—to depart from mere elementary education, the original intention, and overburden the children with studies and accomplishments in which they gain nothing more than a mere scattering in all of them and thoroughness in none. The press is taking a hand in this protest, and the sooner all the people comprehend the great danger that overshadows the health of their children, the sooner a reform will begin in which all are ready to join.

Macled Gazette: The C. P. R. at the solicitation of Mr. Peters, their agent here, have made an excursion rate from Macled to Banff. The round trip fare has been put at $9.35, just half, and the tickets are good for one week. Macled people should take advantage of the cheap rate to visit this lovely summer resort.
An Ottawa despatch of July 12th says: "The Hudson's Bay people were beaten in the railway committee this afternoon in opposing the revival of the charter of the Lake Manitoba Railway company, whose road is to run into the Lake Dauphin country. This bill was defeated in committee some weeks ago by 36 to 37, re-committed and defeated again by 33 to 34, and re-committed again and carried by 33 to 37. It will undoubtedly carry in the house now as Haggart favors it." This looks as if Hugh Sutherland's influence at Ottawa was failing, which is a good thing.

Moose Jaw Times: The humiliating position of the Territories was most clearly revealed in August last when the public calamity of crop failure occurred in five electoral districts surrounding Regina. Not content with having cut down our legitimate grant by 50 per cent., Mr. Daly said to the Assembly, You must cope with that unforeseen calamity. Ignoring the fact that he had given the Assembly an insufficient sum to defray the cost of implied contracts with school districts, agricultural societies, etc., Mr. Daly sat back in his chair and smugly told the Assembly to attend to that comparatively enormous contingency themselves. When confronted by a delegation with the blunt facts of the case, the minister was obliged to admit the injustice of his stand, and he said to the delegation, as he afterwards said to Mr. Haultain at Banff, and as Mr. Davin gave assurance that the late Sir John Thompson had said, You (the Assembly) make all useful expenditure, and the sum so spent shall be refunded by the government. The Assembly made the expenditure—some $45,000. The money was taken out of the scrippled fund for necessities of government, and in what position is the Assembly today? The end of the year has come, the final Dominion estimates for 1904-5 have been passed, Mr. Daly has calmly ignored his promise,—broken faith with the Northwest—proves that as a man of honor and of his word he is not entitled to the respect of the lowest creature in existence—and the Assembly is actually short of money to meet unavoidable services.
